BORIS VII TO BEGIN WITH #22!

Assignments for BORIS VII are Austria to Rob Radicot (a rookie, but a Wormtongue protégé), England to Brad Wilson (Pope Bwad of BORIS V, publisher of VERTIGO), France to Martin Cohn (Sultan Attaboy in BORIS VI, and director extraordinaire), Germany to Wayne Morrison (goat of BORIS III, winner of BORIS V), Italy to Drew Franz (famed submariner), Russia is Marcel Carbonneau (Amber Rose in HR and fledgling GM), and Turkey is Jeff Vendine (Austria in BORIS VI). Ought to be interesting. Orders for SPRING 1994 are due for issue #22 (early January).

BORIS'S BULLETIN BOARD

THOUGHT FOR THE MONTH: We are going to have Peace even if we have to fight for it
 --Dwight D. Eisenhower

Got a set of flyers and a survey form from the folks in France that want to host World DipCon '95. The latter is reproduced herein. Let's see, I ought to be able to talk the Nar into going to Europe, now if I could arrange the itinerary...

Marcel Carbonneau has added WIZARD'S QUEST to his list of games to GM. Still room in his MYSTIC WOOD game also (hint, hint Jack & Rose).

Recently received copies of Scott Cameron's PROTOZOAN and his RAILS BY MAIL. The latter is "dedicated to RAILWAY RIVALS & Balladee". The former is running REPUBLIC OF ROME (just finished), 1830, three BRITANNICAs, HISTORY OF THE WORLD, CONQUISTADOR, and a BLACKBEARD. He has openings only for NEW WORLD at the moment. If he'll share his systems, we can do ROR, BRI, HWD, CG, or BLB here.

A report from Richard Price (Sir Jordan in "Magic Realm"): "18XX in the Midwest"

I have recently acquired (as part of a consortium of Chicago gamers) two new 18XX games, 1850 "The Midwest" and 1870 "The Trans-Mississippi". Both games were designed by W. P. (Bill) Dixon. We purchased them from him for $100 each. They are both well made games with color plotted map boards which are mounted on foam board. The stock certificates, trains, private companies and tiles are also well done, but they have to be cut from the cardstock on which they are printed. Money is not supplied, so we purchased 1830 money from AH.

The 1850 map covers the area just West of the 1830 map stretching to South Dakota and Nebraska. The 1870 map covers the area just South of the 1850 map with a two hex overlap and extends South to the gulf.

I have played both games 3 or 4 times. They are both very like 1830, more so than the other 18XX games on the market. They both include some novel changes to the stock trading rules which, in my opinion, greatly improve the game system. These changes are compatible with 1830 and can be used with that game.

1850 has a less open map board and is a vicious token blocking game while 1870 has a very open map and encourages a lot of parallel track building and long runs.

If any Chicago area gamers want to try out these games, give me a call or drop me a line.

Wormtongue Manuevers, West Squabbles

Spring 1910

CLIFFHOME--This season's action brings to mind the old axiom "I'd rather fight an alliance than be in one." Wormtongue's forces enjoy unity of command and a single, albeit twisted, purpose. The West has three "heads", three visions, and no one head completely trusts another. The Alliance needs Germany's armies to hold the line in Mittel Europe and Italy's fleets to take the attack to Wormtongue's weakness, his littoral centers. England has little to contribute and is positioned securely behind the Italo-German frontline. Berlin and Rome get the point.

TROOP MOVEMENTS

CLASSIFIEDS

"See, you just push this little button right here and the blade rotates at 60 rpm. For my next demonstration..." --Archduchess Mercy, CEO of Wormtongue Industries, Venice.

Go FSU! The Pope is really a FSU fan. Down with Notre Dame!

God may not care who wins the FSU-ND game, but His Mother does!

A Personal Message(?):

THEY SPEAK!
Well, Some Anyway

Winter 1909/10

ENGLAND: This is my first time to give a closing statement, never having won before (ed. postal DIP, that is).

I am grateful for the assistance given me by France, unfortunately the opportunity to go for the win was to attack France from the rear and press hard on the Russians. Jack did a great job with Russia and I was really surprised with the fall of MOS.

Chuck did a great job with France. He assumed a very rough position. Diplomacy kept him in the game and allowed me to throw my main effort against Jack. It was a well played game and the surprise of the survival of Rome gave it a touch of spice to the sweet taste of victory for England!

ITALY: I came, I saw, I (was) splattered (all over the board). Actually, all I remember about this game was lots and lots of Russian units. Kind of like a big white wave washing over Italy, and me just having cancelled my country's flood insurance. Still it was enjoyable, as all games in this zine are. Thanks to Paul for his excellent GMing and my fellow players for playing out the game. Congratulations to the winner and to the Russian player--you played a good game as well.

RUSSIA: "Curses, foiled again!" to quote Snidley Whiplash.

Moscow: The Czar has sent emissaries to the Tudor King inquiring about marriageable daughters or sons. Quoting the Philosophy, "If you can't beat them, join 'em" the Czar seeks to cement relations with the Tudor king through family relations. Shoes as gift have also been mentioned with the cementing.

GM: First of all, I'd like to thank Jon Langbert, Chuck Hanna, Jack McHugh, and Mark Frueh for fearlessly subbing where sane men would fear to tread. To me, it was obvious as early as 1903 that the game belonged to either England or Russia and that it was probably going to go to whomever made the first move on the other. Wayne moved first, and eked it out, primarily due to the non-fall of ROM and French intervention. Jack's fatal mistake may have been in not building F STP (incl) early as "insurance" against English predations. All in all, a well played game.

TURKS OUT! GERMANY NEUT?

Fall 1904

WALL STREET JOURNAL--The Eastern Alliance grinds its way inexorably westward. German and Italian forces have been reduced to banditry. It is doubtful that the Anglo-French Alliance can blunt much less halt the Eastern juggernauts. Only Austria's lack of fleets, due to the imminent German sacking of TRI, and its shipbuilding facilities, offers any hope for the West. Expect another Russian fleet in the Arctic. Sell your lire, marks, and francs. The ruble is ascendant, and has the advantage when the two Eastern Giants finally slout and come to blows.

I figure there are 24 different sets of retreats possible and that the most likely has 64 different combinations of builds/tears, assuming everybody builds to the max. ### OPERATING ROUND 6.1:

B&O: Run H18N-H15-H10-H4-F2 ($250). Pay dividend (TRC +$125, G&O +$100, PZ +$25) so price soars to A300.

B&M: Lay Tile #45 in B18(w). No run, so price slips to D110. Buy diesel (B&M -$442, G&O -$558).

NYC: Lay Tile 20 in D20(se). Run H15-H18N-G19S-G17-G19N ($280). Pay dividends (PZ +$168, TRC +$56, NYC +$28, JB +$28); price rises to D110.

ERIE: Lay Tile #65 in D10(w). Run D10-E11 ($100) & E11-D14 ($70). Withhold dividends so price slips to B90.

NYNH&H: Lay Tile #23 in C19(se). Run G19S-G17-G19N-F20-F22-E19-B16-A11 ($320). Pay dividends (MT +$192, NYNH&H +$64, PZ +$32, G&O +$32); price leaps to C111.

CP: Lay Tile #14 in B16(sw). Run G19S-G17-G19N-F20-F22-E23 ($270). Pay dividends (MT +$162, WMM +$81, PZ +$27); price goes to A100.

C&O: Lay Tile #8 in F8(sw). No run, so prices tumble to E67. Buy diesel from PA for $20.

PA: Lay Tile #58 in H6(ne). Run F2-H4-H10-H12-J14-H15 ($240). Pay dividends (GK +$144, PA +$24, WM +$24, PZ +$24); price rebounds to F67.

Please expedite your orders. The time you save is only your own.

---BORIS VI (continued from p 4)

FR TO IT: Go quietly into that last good night.

RUSSIA-ENGLAND I wasn't "whining." If you don't want to coordinate action, that's your loss.

VIENNA-ROME Sorry about this, but I had a previous arrangement with another party and you are about to become an unfortunate casualty of it. I actually do regret that it is necessary to take this step, because together we could have done some wonderful things, but we really needed more than just a nonaggression agreement.

BORIS WORLD PRESS REVIEW

Constantinople Cryerski: The Duchess of the Golden Horn has announced the Russian Military's success, once-and-for-all, in the elimination of the Islamic threat against Christendom. The Last Crusade is complete.

The Economist: According to government sources there is a dispute between the Foreign Office and the Admiralty over the recent Russian naval expansion in the far North. "The Navy is being paranoid as usual," complained a high level Foreign Ministry official on the condition of being anonymous. "We are having delicate talks with the Tsar and the Navy insist on rocking the boat, no pun intended."

A high level source in the Admiralty was equally upset. "The Russians double their fleet in the Atlantic and we're suppose to ignore it? If the French or Italians did that we'd go bonkers but just because the Russian keeps in contact we're suppose pretend we don't see it."

The Prime Minister office issue a press release in the wake of this policy argument saying, "While we are not pleased Russia's new fleet builds we do not dictate policy to allies. However we do intend to make inquiries with our Russian friends. We also reserve the right to take all steps necessary to defend British interest as we see them. The government will not hesitate to take ANY actions as we see fit to protect our security."

Sources in the PM's office believe the last sentence refers to recent Royal Navy exercises in the Norwegian Sea. The exercise, codenamed "Northern Exposure I", is seen as a deterrent and a defensive strategic redeployment vis-a-vis Russia.

Vienna Voice--The Emperor's triumphal return to liberated Vienna was greeted with great jubilation, though he warned the cheering crowds, "We are not out of the woods yet, but the neo-hunish scum are being crushed, and our eventual triumph is assured!" After a ceremony of thanksgiving near the bullet-pocked Schonbrunn Palace, the Emperor announced he would be journeying to Rome to assist in the recreation of the various Italian minor states -- "...which are certainly entitled to their independent existence out from underneath incompetent central authority..." During his speech, the Emperor invited the French to complete the destruction of Italian armed forces in conjunction with Austria's powerful military. He also remarked that the Kaiser's only hope was to abjectly surrender and become an Austrian vassal state, thus resuming "...Prussia's natural role in central Europe."

Moondoggie: Yo, dudes, the Moondoggie is drifting down for a breath of air and to top up the tank with highest PURPLE.

Fang to Ralph: Hey, think we can pawn these old rusted swords on this Woolly dude?

THE BOURSE

DINAR DISAPPEARS!
MARK CRASHES!

FALL 1904

The Bourse is a game of foreign exchange. Each player starts out with $1000 American and can invest it in the currencies of the European Great Powers. Each unit of European currency costs its current number of supply centers in dollars. This game is pegged to the results of BORIS VI (on page 4). The game is open to all but players in BORIS VI. Players can buy and sell currencies freely except after a Spring turn (the Bourse is closed to prevent panic selling and rampant speculation). Of course the player with the best net worth at game's end will be the winner.

ERRATA: WMMNM got paid for too many francs, so bought too many rubles. The glitch has been corrected.

THIS SEASON'S RESULTS: Due to the "fog of war", several results are unknown at press time. Orders for all currencies will be executed at the actual post-Winter prices. Players may wish to wait until next issue when all the official rates will be posted to place orders.

CLASSIFIEDS

To Germany: Truly brilliant! Please continue your lesson in Realpolitik. I'm sure the loss of every supply center but one was merely a ruse designed to get the rest of us off guard. I breathlessly await the stunning skill with which you will undoubtedly recoup your position and overcome this sacrifice of the, what, SIX additional supply centers that you once held? I'm all agog to know. But then arrogance has always been a poor substitute for strategy, hasn't it?

French army invited to vacation in southern Germany: "We weren't going to go then got a frequent marcher discount."

Russia to France: Have a beer on me in Munich (Prosit!)

Austria to France: Hopefully you'll be able to help finish off the Italian forces in the west. After this move he has some very tough decisions to make about what he'll be tearing down. This should allow you the opportunity to regain your lost centers and then some. Also, if Germany isn't finished this turn, I'll need your assistance some more. I told you it would take a while to set up when we talked, but I like to think it was worth the wait!

Austria to Russia: Lost in GAL again? At this rate we'll have to buy road signs in Cyrillic so that your generals can figure out which way home is.

SP to IT: Come back when you can't stay longer.

1995 : World DipCon V

We, the French Federation of Games of Diplomacy and Strategy (FFJDS), 11 rue Malherbe, F-75003 Paris, FFJDS@frwsg.fr.net, international congress: Xavier Blanchard-Vincent Archet, in accordance with the Charter of the DipCon Society (version 1.03), officially apply for the organization of the 5th World Diplomacy Convention in 1995, in Paris.

We are determined to prepare a truly international event. There is no better opportunity than World DipCon to encourage world exchanges of opinions and ideas, to improve national hobbies as well as the international one.

We commit ourselves to the following : exemption of entry fees for players living abroad, cheap hotel housing provided for those who cannot afford to pay for an accommodation, enough free time to visit a rating system published in advance and easily understandable, a definitive and published rating for each player at the end of the last tournament, numerous prizes and trophies, to reward the best players, the best countries, the best negotiations, the most influential initiators, the best hosts... We commit ourselves to develop a truly international spirit (and to fill every cup with champagne!).

Be cooperative ! Please, spread this POLL as many as possible ! When you agree, tick the
